Ken Fish, first and foremost, is a lover of God! His passion for bringing the Kingdom of God is remarkable. He carries deep historical perspective as well as revelatory insight into facets of the Kingdom that very few are addressing. I always learn when I listen to Ken.

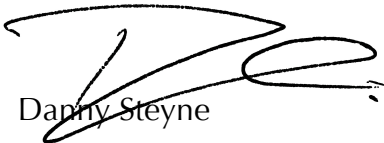

As a spiritual son of the late John Wimber, he also carries the wit, humor, and authenticity in his communication ability and also through gifts of prophecy, word of knowledge, and healing that flow freely from his life. I've personally witnessed his tenacity and determination to make sure all who need ministry receive it regardless of the time needed, or the time the clock seems to indicate. I find this quite rare in the Body of Christ, but so necessary for a generation that needs to be equipped rather than simply spoken to. He carries a true heart of a father who wants people to understand as well as do the works of Jesus in their own lives.

I've known him since 1982 where we met in Yorba Linda, at the gym that would birth a movement called "Vineyard." Back then his gifting in writing became an inspiration to me. Today, that gift has exceeded to areas where he can speak and write, not only as an author, but also as communicator with leaders and the Body of Christ at large.

But the most significant thing I know about Ken, is that he is a friend, and as a friend not only to me, but to so many others, his concern is not simply to accomplish a task but foster life-long relationships that goes beyond simply ministry into investment and love.

I unreservedly commend him to you, to those you serve, and to the cities and regions that are desperate for a touch from God!

In His Great Love,
